ITV installs Zip HydroChill systems in its London offices providing the perfect solution for large-scale events and functions

Location: London

Client: ITV

Sector: Commercial

Product: HydroTap Classic in bright chrome

The brief

- Drinking water solutions that keep the workforce hydrated, healthy and productive.
- Needs to be able to cater for regular large-scale events, functions and meetings.

The solution

Already experiencing the benefits of great tasting water thanks to the installation of over 20 HydroTaps across their London offices, when ITV were looking for a sustainable and capable bottle filling solution that could provide their catering teams with large amounts of water quickly they looked no further than the HydroChill HC50. The perfect solution, the catering teams have since been able to provide an improved and more efficient service to meet increased demands.

The results

“The HydroChill is a perfect fit for our offices, particularly as sustainability is very important to us as a company. Since moving from our Southbank offices, we have cut out usage of paper cups completely and only have reusable glasses and mugs. The HydroChill is another solution where we can help create a greener office. It’s no wonder after the success of the HydroTap at ITV that the HydroChill has proven to be just as popular.”
