HydroTap makes for a baking favourite at vlogger's stunning West London home

Location: London

Client: Jim Chapman

Sector: Residential

Product: HydroTap Arc in bright chrome

The brief

- A homely, functional and stylish instant boiling water tap for the kitchen.

The solution

Wanting a tap that's as functional as it is stylish, Jim Chapman was excited to specify the HydroTap Arc in bright chrome in his beautifully designed kitchen. With a passion for cooking and baking, the tap has been perfect for speeding up cooking processes, as well as boosting hydration through the instant delivery of great tasting water.

The results

"The water previously was lukewarm and I used to have to run it for a long time to get it cold. The HydroTap has made a huge difference in that respect. I use it mostly for the chilled filtered water and I reckon I've drunk more water since it was installed. I was never much of a tea drinker, but am finding myself making it much more now - it's just so easy and everything just tastes so much cleaner."
